The convention was entertained with several countries, so that every leading map be fully represented.

RICHARD PINDELL, Chairman. The convention was entertained with several "Ogle spoon" speeches, and then adjourned. Not a word was sail about Trabue in the meeting. The difficulty with him was artfully dodged by the managers of the Opposition, and his friends did not seem to take alarm. The harmony, however, was all anon the surface. Trabne intends to run on his own hook. comes off, unless it should concede the track ing to commence at 1 o'clock, P. M., on each to Trabue. That's our prediction.

The Opposition held their county meeting on yesterday to nominate delegales to a Congressional Convention. In his opening address, the chairman of the meeting spoke of a written application to the Auditor for copies of public documents, showing the extravagance in part of the K. N. adminstration, as having been made by an "emissary,"

We have come to a pretty pass, truly, if a eitizen eannot call for copies of such documents without being stigmatized in this manner. We must have still more of these fearful lacts and documents, although it makes the Opposition tremble. As the Opposition press are busily engaged in publishing the accounts for furnishing the new Capitol at Washington, will they be so kind as to give the sums expended in re-furnishing the Capitol, Auditor's office, and Governor's house here?

The State of Kentucky was run in debt about five millions of dollars for useless works of improvement by the Opposition to Democracy. Thirty times this sum would give one hundred and fifty millions, and shows the amount the debt would have been if their theater had been the whole union instead of a single State. The annual interest upon the State debt is a tax directly out of the pockets of the people. Before the debt was created the tax was six cents to the hundred dollars -now it is twenty cents. Truly the Opposition is a wonderful party to complain of national expenses which involve not a cent of Democratic candidate for the office of Atdirect taxation.

The Democracy of Nelson county held | Glasgow, Friday, April 22. a meeting on the 11th inst., and approved the action of the Central Committee of the 5th Congressional district in calling a convention to nominate a candidate for Congress. They also passed a resolution expressing their preference for Hou. J. II. Jewett. Anderson, Spencer, and Larne have heretofore expressed a preference for him.

Or On Saturday, the jury in the case of the Commonwealth vs. McAfee, for killing Jenkins, in the Mercer Circuit Court, returned a verdict of not guilty. They were not more than five minutes in making up the verdict.

John Rodman, Esq., judging from his speech on yesterday, is anxious to have opposition. He will be accommodate l. His speech shows that he needs a teacher, as he has yet ST. CLAIR ST., OPPOSITE THE COURT-HOUSE to learn that the homesteal bill, the passage of which he charged upon the Democratic .54 co party, did not become the law of the land. We predict that he will have a "hard road to. trace/" in his effort to run up Bell's impority in this county to two hundred! He will learn, too, that a few anecdotes, at this day, and abuse of the Democratic Administration and foreigners, will not win.

----It is in good keeping for K. N.'s to call for copies of official documents. It will be remembered that when the Democratic electo- whether he meant that the people of a Terriral college met here in Decembere, 1856, to cast the vote of the State, a committee appointed by the electors were refused by the K. (From the Lexington Statesman.) Slavery in the Territories.

As specimens of the views held by prominent South in state men on the subject of slavery of a State in the Terri cries in 1854, we present a collection of extracts, which a Washington corres- sail: ent has embodied in a letter to the Cinbroadcast through the country.

pte of Karsas should decide the slavery question, and that he should alide the decision. He declared that he would not plant slavery men "emiss ris" for calling upon their chicials upon the soil of any portion of Cod's earth luture against the will of the people, even it his voice could bring about the result. Being asked said: tory before forming their constitution should have power to exclude slavery, he said it was purely a theoretical issue, and went on to establishment or its prohibition, beyond the laws for its practication slavery will not go there. Therefore, practically, a majority of the people recognized by law. the question. Whether they decele it by prohibiting it, according to the one doctrine, or by relis ing to pass laws protecting it as contended I by the other party, is immaterial. The a picrity of the people, by the action of the Territorial Legislature, will decide the question, and all must

My friend, you observe that, no matter what the issue is presented, I stand upon a pair ciple. There I planted myself in the commencement of this argument—the right of the people to self government. I intend to maintain it, to stand by it, to carry it out, to enforce it. It it operate to the exclusion of the people of my section of the country from these Territories, be it so, it is the Senator Mason, of Va., who, at the late session, demanded a slave code for the Territories, said in a speech in the Senate, May, 1851, that the Nebraska Bill was "objectionable in that feature of it, for, one, which does not deny to the people the right to legislate on the subject of slavery." He was, however, willing to yield that as a question of "expeliency."

On the 11th of December, 1850, he said:

The previous debate had reference to the issues raised by the Kansas-Nelraska Bil, and what I intended to say, and in a more elaborate form, would have said, was this, that those with who I act, have uniformly denied any power whatever, in Longuess, to legislate on the subject of slavery.

THE TRI-WEEKLY YEOMAN. A Poisoner Fo'led-An Amusing Ruse. A lu licrous attempt to murder a husband, which recently occurred in Halifax, England,

The Court-room is crowded to day, as it has been sin e the commencement of this memorable trial. The interest in it does not aleate a jot, but rather becomes intensified from day to day.

There is so much three consumed in argument of questions that bot but e progress is made, and weeks may yet elapse before the trial is brought to a close. The court was opened at half past ten, and soon after the prisoner was brought in Hooking less careworn than hatcento.

Jeob Wagner, the locksmith, was recalled to make some corrections in his testimeny.

No one stoke to mo but the colored man; I heard Mr. Pembleton's name mentioned; this gen No one stoke to me but the colored man; I heard Mr. Pembleton's name mentioned; this gentleman, pounting to Mr. Lee Jones, a lawyer, who sits he side the prosecuting counsel, is the min I took to be Mr. Pembleton.

It was the colored man who sent for me; I went in by the brek door; the front door was locked; I tried to undock the back door, and found it was unlocked; the lock I ad not been broker; this was a week after Mr. Key's death; the gentlemen I spoke of were up stairs. I think; I do not remember their coming down, nor did I go up stairs; they did not superintend the taking off the lock, nor did I to give me any directions; the lock I put on was quite a different kind of a lock from that I took off.

Jahn W. Seeley examined—I saw the witness that I took off.

Julm W. Soeley examined—I saw the witness take off the bock; saw him opening the back door, and he ard the order given to take the lock off the front door; Mr. Chas. Lee Jones and Mr. Pendleton were present, one of them directed the locks with the remove it.

Know Jones by sight, and the reason I knew it was Pendleton—
